

Asking for Information

Key structures

Do you know?

Excuse me please?

Where?

When?

Who?

How?

Excuse me do you know when the train for Bristol arrives, please?

Excuse me do you how to get to the station?

I'd like to know

I'd like to know what time you close tonight

I'd like to know how much a metro ticket is

I'd like to know if the exhibition is still one

Can/ can you tell me:

Can you tell me the way to

Can you tell where I can find

And now a dialogue between Traveler 1 and Traveler 2

Excuse Me Please

Traveler 1: Excuse me please is this the train to Edinburgh?

Traveler 2: Yes, it is.

Traveler 1: Do you know if it is the 248 train?

Traveler 2: Well it must be.

Traveler 1: Could you tell me if it is on time. I cannot find the train on my application.

Traveler 2: Do you mind if I have a look? Ah well this is not how you spell Edinburgh.

I'd Like to Know How

Traveler 1: Hello sir. I am a foreign tourist and I'd like to know how to get to town hall from here.

Traveler 2: It's simple. You go straight to the traffic light and turn left.

Traveler 1: May I ask you how to go to the town hall from here?

HYPNO*LANGUE
Learn english faster & easier

Traveler 2: You go straight to the traffic light and turn left

Traveler 1: Could you tell me how to go to the town hall?

Traveler 2: This is the third and last time I am telling you. Traffic light and then left

Traveler 1: Don't get angry. I'm practicing my English.

HYPNO*LANGUE
Learn english faster & easier