And bit of conversation

Woman: Could you close the window, please? I feel a draft.

Man: The sky is a bit overcast. It looks like rain.

Woman: It's raining cats and dogs. I got soaked to the skin.

Man: What's the weather like in Dublin? It's pouring.

Woman: I'm freezing. I'm chilled to the bone.

Man: How can you not be depressed in this miserable weather?

Woman: We were snowed in for two weeks last winter.

Man: A flood damage is estimated to cost several million euros.

Woman: I prefer walking on snow to walking on burning sand.

Man: They one by a landside victory.
