Describing people

- Wentworth: Hi Sarah, I'm surprised you don't know John. Do you really not know him? Do you not see who he is?
- Sarah: I'm sorry I don't. All I know is that he's Australian, from Perth. What is he like? I mean, physically?
- Wentworth: He's good-looking. He is tall. He is blond. He has wavy hair and blue eyes.
- Sarah: He looks very attractive, I suppose. Does he have a surfer look?
- Wentworth, No, he doesn't. He always wears very expensive jackets.
- Sarah: Do you know the brand?
- Wentworth: I think so. Anyway, he works on the same floor. Today, he wears a navy blue jacket and a light blue solid shirt. You can't miss him!
- Sarah: I can't wait! Everyone always talks about him. You are someone who sees him almost everyday. How lucky! I'm curious to meet him.
- Wentworth: He is a nice person, very outgoing. He smiles a lot. He is a very pleasant.
- Sarah: Well, well, we will probably meet this week. I mean today or tomorrow. We will meet one of these days, for sure!!!
- Wentworth: Probably, probably. I think it's time to go. Have a nice day, Sarah!
