

MUST / necessary-forbidden

YOU MUST GO STRAIGHT

- Wentworth: Sarah, do you know the way to the Apollo? I know it is near ... Can you tell me the way, please?
- Sarah: Are you talking about the concert hall or the Greek restaurant called the Apollo?
- Wentworth: The concert hall! Actually, one of my favorite bands will play at the venue, this month. And honestly, I can't read a map properly. But if I ask somebody the way and they tell me, I always remember!
- Sarah: (haha) Memory is such a mystery. Well, the Apollo is on Arthur Street, between the leisure centre and a music academy. The façade is turquoise with a big key of G. You can't miss it.
- Wentworth: but how do you go there, from here?
- Sarah: From here... Let me think... From here, you must go straight to Lincoln Road. The city hall must be behind you... You must turn left on Oscar Street. You will arrive on Dudley boulevard, there is a little square and just in front, there is a bookshop so you cross the street and walk to the closest corner, you turn left at the traffic lights, and another left again. You shall be on Albert Street and then, finally you turn right. You must walk up the street and you will see the Apollo.
- Wentworth: I will write it down. Thanks for your indications.
- Sarah: Please, do not hesitate to ask me questions. I know the town like the back of my hand. And I'm used to giving directions too.
- Wentworth: It's good to know! Let me find some paper and write it down. Can you please repeat...
- Sarah: Of course!

YOU MUST GO STRAIGHT	To miss
To know	there
The way	From(here)
near	'Let me think'
To tell the way	straight
To talk about	The city hall= the town hall
A concert hall	behind
Greek	To turn left
called	A square
actually	In front
A favorite band	A bookshop(UK)/ a bookstore (US)
To play	To cross
A venue	The closest corner
A month	Traffic lights
honestly	again
To read	SHALL
A map	then properly	finally
To ask	To turn right
somebody	To walk up
always	To see
To remember	To write down
memory	An indication
such	To hesitate
A mystery	To ask questions
On ... Street	A town
Leisure centre	'like the back of my hand'
Music academy	To be used to givING
The façade	TOO
turquoise	Let me FIND
A key	To repeat
G	Of course !

HYPNOLANGUE
Learn english faster & easier

A- Grammar

MUST

In English, MUST is a modal. It is the modal for obligation. We use MUST at the present tense only.

1) in positive statements

We use MUST when we express obligation.

Example: You must turn left

Impersonal equivalents are:

It is necessary

It is mandatory(to sign here)

2) in negative statements

We use MUST in negative statements to refer to a ban

Example: You must not smoke (it is forbidden for you to smoke)

Impersonal equivalents are:

It is not allowed (to smoke here)

It is forbidden (to smoke here)

HYPNOLANGUE
Learn english faster & easier

B- Basic prepositions of place

