

ART the/a/an/no article

Wentworth: I love arts... How I love architecture!

Sarah: Do you consider architecture an art?

Wentworth: It is art for me. When I see buildings in a modern style, I think this is perfection!

Sarah: Are you interested in another form of art?

Wentworth: I love painting. My favorite painting is Mona Lisa by Da Vinci. When I look at the lady's face, I feel calm and relaxed. This is what you call a work of art. It leaves an impression on you.

Sarah: I prefer Cézanne's paintings, or Van Gogh's. I think about the south of France, summer, of the nights in summer and the beautiful sunflowers. Painters are magicians. Do you know hyperrealism? .Paintings look like real pictures. It is incredible.

Wentworth: it is very interesting. I'd like to know more.

ART	To feel
To love
'How I love'	calm relaxed
architecture
An art	This is what you call...
For (me)	A work of art
when	To leave an impression
To see	on
A building	To prefer
in	or
A style	The south of (France)
modern	beautiful
To think(about)	sunflower
'this is perfection'	A painter
Are you interested in... ?	A magician
Another	To know
A form of art	hyperrealism
painting	Look like
favorite	real
A painting	A picture
by	incredible
To look at	very
the	interesting
A face	'I'd like (to + v)
A lady	more

Grammar:

1/ THE

a) We use THE when we speak about something particular or unique. THE is singular or plural in English.

Example: it is on the table / It is on the Internet / the children play

b) There is no 'THE' before the name of a country.

Example: They come from Spain

We use it only for plural nouns in this case.

Example: They come from The United States

HYPNOLANGUE
Learn english faster & easier

2)A

We use A for something non specific. You use A for a noun in singular form. You use A before the name of a job for example.

Example: I see a car / They wear a uniform for school

3) AN

A becomes AN in front of a vowel sound.

Example: She is an architect / It is an umbrella / an hour

4) NO ARTICLE

a) before nouns in singular form

We use no article when we refer to a notion, a concept, a liquid or material (with no measurement), a noun in singular form.

Example: He has courage. I drink water/ I eat meat

a) before nouns in plural form

we use NO ARTICLE before a noun in plural form when we do not want to be exact about the number.

We use no articles when we refer to a group.

Example: there are people/ She has books /Americans are friendly