

113. Relief

W: Oh by the way Sarah, I've been meaning to ask you. How did you get on at your interview the other day?

Sarah: well, I don't know if they are going to offer me the job, but I think I made a good impression. At least let's say it could have been worse.

W: Good, I'm glad about that. You must be feeling quite relieved about it.

Sarah: Yes, I suppose I am. It's strange how nervous you can get about these things. In the event, I may have been a bit lucky with some of the questions they asked me, but I must admit I was quite pleased with the way it turned out. The only thing is, they still haven't finished interviewing all the candidates, so they couldn't give me a definitive answer.

W: But whatever happens, you haven't done too badly, that's the main thing.

Sarah: yes, at least I didn't make a fool of myself or do anything embarrassing. As I say, it went very well on the whole. I've done what I could, and there is no point worrying about the results now. We'll just have to wait and see.

W: Well, I bet you breathe more freely now!
