

HYPNOLANGUE
Learn english faster & easier

Disappointment

Sarah: how did you enjoy your night out at the theatre last week, Wentworth?

W: It didn't go too well actually. We arrived late, and they wouldn't let us in immediately, in case we disturbed people near us in the audience. So I'm afraid we missed the beginning.

Sarah: That's a shame. Still they do warn you about that on the tickets.

W: Yes, I know, that's what they kept telling me. Latecomers will not be admitted until a suitable break in the performance. I suppose I'll know better next time.

Sarah: That's right. Put it down to experience. But what happened anyway? Why were you late?

W: That's just the trouble, it was all my fault. I didn't realise there would be so much traffic on the road. Carol, my wife was quite cross with me about it, I don't mind telling you.

Sarah: oh, it's no use worrying about it now. She must know everyone makes mistakes.

W: Yes, but she still blames me. Ah well, I suppose it could have been worse. At least they weren't expensive tickets and it's not as if it was a special occasion like our anniversary last month!

Sarah: oh my God yes! It would have been such a pity otherwise!

GLOSSARY:

Disappointment	A night out
To enjoy	The audience
To arrive	The beginning
To let someone in	A shame
To disturb	The tickets
To miss	Latecomers
To warn	A suitable break
They kept telling me	The performance
To be admitted	So much traffic
To suppose	The road
To put something down to	Too well
To happen	Late
To realise	Immediately
To be cross with somebody	Near
I don't mind telling you	Still
It's no use worrying	Anyway
To make a mistake	The trouble
To blame	My fault
	Worse
	Expensive
	Such a pity

Deception
To feel/to be sorry for
To comfort, to console
To fail someone
What a shame
What's done cannot be undone

HYPNOLANGUAGE
Learn english faster & easier

