HAVE/ HAVE GOT

MY FAMILY TREE

- Wentworth: Hello everyone. I hope you are fine. Today, our discussion is about family. Sarah, do you have siblings?
- Sarah: I don't know this word.
- Wentworth: Siblings is another term for brothers and sisters.
- Sarah: Now I understand! I don't have siblings. I'm an only child. Do you have brothers and sisters?
- Wentworth: Yes, I do.
- Sarah: How many brothers and sisters do you have?
- Wentworth: I have one older brother and two young sisters. I have got my own family now. With my wife, we have two children.
- Sarah: Are they boys or girls?
- Wentworth: I have a son, the boy; and I've got a daughter, the girl.
- Sarah: You are lucky to have a big family. You are never alone.
- Wentworth: it is true. But sometimes, it is complicated. I live overseas ... My sisters live in London where they study. My brother lives near my parents, in the same town.
- Sarah: When do you visit your family?
- Wentworth: I visit my sisters regularly because France is close to England. We visit our parents and our brother for Christmas.
